Hello Students and Preceptors.

A number of preceptors and students have contacted the COP about the possibility of students working from home to complete APPE rotation requirements. It is difficult for some students to complete direct patient care/clinical rotations without being physically present at the site. However, where it is possible for students to work from home, the COP is 100% in support of this approach. In fact, we currently have some students completing nontraditional rotations and ambulatory care rotations that provide telephonic patient care by working from home. Some of our sites are requiring students to complete their rotations this way to reduce the likelihood of viral spread and/or student exposure to the virus.

We encourage students and preceptors to discuss whether or not working from home is feasible. The college is supportive of this approach where it is possible. Please let us know if you have any concerns.
