

“Enabling Technologies for the green synthesis of Pharmaceutical Agents at Merck”

Investment in new technologies enables the pharmaceutical industry to develop innovative and sustainable processes for the preparation of Active Pharmaceutical Ingredients. This presentation will highlight several of the new capabilities in which MSD has invested and the corresponding synthetic benefits gained. Ultimately, these innovative investments have enabled the development of creative processes now being used to prepare marketed and late stage therapeutics in an environmentally benign fashion.