Hey P4s,
Sorry to hit you with 2 emails today but I wanted this info to only go to P4s.

Great news! NABP is reinstating the taking of Board exams to a limited extent. They are currently scheduling exams for all candidates as they receive their Authorization to Test (ATT). NABP is working to increase the capacity for NAPLEX and MPJE test takers.

130 testing sites are now re-opened. The numbers of test takers are being limited at any given time at testing centers as you would expect. This is great news for P4s. HOWEVER, it underscores the importance of you “Acing” the NAPLEX and Law exams the first time you take them. You will be among the first students in the country to take the exam and therefore near the front of the line for new jobs. Do not squander this awesome head start by taking NAPLEX or Law lightly. If you fail either exam, there is a waiting period before you can take it again. Pass the first time.

While you are bored at home, you can begin the process of exam prep. Maybe some cool social media way can be used to test each other?

Did everyone take Dr. Erickson’s law prep exam? No excuse not to because even if you are moving out of Michigan, he has tons of federal law on exam, and you will need that.

There are tons of resources on Access Pharmacy related to NAPLEX Prep and Law Prep. There is the NAPLEX question of the week, a huge NAPLEX review guide, and many pharmacy law books, including some from other states.
You get these free....so start using them! https://accesspharmacy-mhmedical-com.proxy.lib.umich.edu/ Bookmark it!

Dean Bostwick reminds us: Upcoming P4 LLL deadlines on 4/12/20. Update your pharmacy phamily advisor on your SMART goals progress, career plans, co-curricular log, end of year reflection and overall how you are coping amidst all of the uncertainties ahead. Don’t forget to thank them for their mentorship! Please complete all assignments on Canvas and contact Dean Bostwick (jkingsbu@med.umich.edu) with questions, clarifications, or if your advisor is unavailable to meet.

Doctors Without Quarters presented to P4s on 3/27/2020. Gotta practice my COVID lecture for tomorrow, I have not done a big Blue Jean lecture before. Remember there was Pre-work due before class!
Here is link to class tomorrow: To join the meeting on a computer or mobile phone: https://bluejeans.com/184212446?src=calendarLink

Okay, enough from me. Top Chef is on tonight!
